SP500 FUNDERS POLICY SUMMARY

We value your privacy and are committed to protecting your personal information. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, and disclose personal information, and your rights regarding that information. "SP500F" refers to SP500 Funders.

Consent, by providing information through our websites, trading platform, application forms, or via email, you consent to our collection, use, disclosure, and transfer of that information as per this Privacy Policy. Your use of our websites also constitutes consent to our use of cookies.

Information Collection, we collect personal information to comply with regulatory requirements and to provide our products and services. This may include your name, address, contact details, financial information, and more. Most information is obtained directly from you through applications or during customer service interactions, but we may also gather information through identity checks and cookies.

Use and Disclosure, your information is used to assess applications, conduct identity checks, open and manage your trading account, and enhance our services. We may share information with regulators, associated companies, authorized parties, introducing brokers, and third-party service providers. Your personal data rights include the ability to object, rectify, erase, or request restrictions on processing your data.

Security and Storage, we implement security measures to protect your personal information, including TLS encryption, firewalls, and access control mechanisms. However, the transmission of information via the Internet is not entirely secure, and you assume the risk of any transmission. We store your information for as long as necessary to meet legal and regulatory obligations.

Changes to the Policy, if this Privacy Policy is updated, changes will be posted on our website or communicated through other means.

Cookies, cookies are used to monitor website usage, compile data, and improve our services. They help us understand user behavior and enhance content relevance.

Direct Marketing, we may use your information to offer products and services. If you do not wish to receive marketing offers, email us at marketing@sp500f.com.

Accessing and Updating Your Information, you can request access to your personal information or request corrections by contacting us. There is no fee for correcting information, but we may recover reasonable costs associated with processing your request.
